

PACE Equity Priority Buildings

Equity Priority Buildings are eligible for additional funding in certain PACE rebate categories.

Your building may qualify as an Equity Priority Building if it houses one or more businesses that serve frontline community members: people that are more vulnerable to the impacts of climate change due to factors including income, race, language, age, documentation status, disability, and more.

Equity Priority Buildings include:

- Deed-restricted multifamily affordable housing
- Naturally occurring affordable housing (at least 66% of the building's units must have rents at or below 80% of area median income rent limits)
- Human service providers, defined as a non-profit tax-exempt entity that offers critical services such as:
  - Advocacy organizations (such as Community Advocacy, Social Service Advocacy, or similar)
  - After-school providers
  - Childcare centers
  - Community centers
  - Disability service providers
  - Domestic violence centers
  - Emergency service organizations
  - Family support organizations
  - Food pantries
  - Homeless shelters
  - Immigration service providers
  - Job training and workforce development services
  - Law/legal centers (non-profit and pro-bono services to income-qualified communities)
  - Mental and behavioral health facilities
  - Places of worship (offering critical services to frontline communities)
  - Rehabilitation providers
  - Senior centers (not owned by the City and County of Boulder)
  - Transitional or supportive housing
  - Women's or children's shelters

Contact your PACE advisor if you're interested in participating or if you do not meet all the above criteria and would like to be considered.
